

HIGHBURY'S MATHS MAGICIAN

Highbury Preparatory School's Noah Dammann started the SEMAS (Soroban Education and Mental Arithmetic System) Abacus Maths programme halfway through Grade R year, two years ago. He recently attended the KZN Regional Competition and won a gold medal. Two weeks ago, he participated in the South African National Competition in Johannesburg and won a Champion trophy. This is actually 2nd place on his level (called 10th Kyu). For this achievement, he received an invitation to the Pama International SEMAS competition, which will be held in Taiwan in December 2012.

Noah Dammann holding his Champion trophy.